INSPIRE SELLING

Government Report Overpowers Market and Prices Fall in Consequence.

The Government's final ginning figures, published at 10 o'clock yesterday, were some 250,000 bales larger than the crop estimate made in December, and this brought a wave of selling into the market which kept quotations under pressure most of the day. The quantity of cotton ginned, exclusive of lint, according to the Government report, was given at 11,231,242 bales, compared with 11,011,820 in 1917. The average gross weight of the bales is officially estimated at 502 pounds a bale, compared with 502.8 last year and 505.6 the previous year. The Census Bureau's report, contrary to the usual custom, did not give an estimate of the amount of the lint in the season's crop. It is expected that they will total about 1,000,000 bales, however.

First prices were 2 to 4 points higher, due to an accumulation of overnight buying orders. March sold at 22.20c, the start, May at 22.40c, July at 22.60c, September at 22.80c, and October at 23.00c. The selling pressure brought into the market by the Government report overpowered the market, however, brought prices down to 24 points from the previous day's close and some 30 to 33 points below the opening quotations. This sent March down to 22.20c, July to 22.40c, September to 22.60c, and October to 22.80c.

The same trade buyers who stepped into the breach on the previous day, with instructions to cover the declines, were ready to follow a similar course yesterday. The activity of shorts in covering also kept the market steady, and the market advanced 10 to 15 points from the highest. The close was steady, at a net decline of 10 to 15 points from the previous day's figures.

While the official forecast is for unsettled weather, the fact that it was raining in the eastern States and that reports from many parts of Texas and Oklahoma record a low barometer, make it probable that the drought in the Southwest is to be broken soon.

UNIFORM MENACED BY ECONOMY WAVE

Civilian "Experts" Work Threatens to Rob It of All Smartness.

Efforts to economize out of existence all the accessories that add smartness to the United States Army uniform and substitute a garb suggestive of the military of France, or even of the military of the United States, are under way in Washington, according to information reaching the United States Army. The United States Army is now in the process of reorganizing its uniform, and the civilian "experts" are working to rob it of all smartness.

The movement was started, it is said, by the United States Army, and the civilian "experts" are working to rob it of all smartness. The United States Army is now in the process of reorganizing its uniform, and the civilian "experts" are working to rob it of all smartness.
